

Launch Your Healthcare Career with Grandaliro!

Calling all passionate pharmacy students in Slovenia!

Grandaliro, healthcare marketing & advisory company, is offering a unique paid internship program to help you bridge the gap between academics and real-world experience.

Here's what you'll do:

- Conduct research on local disease landscapes (psoriasis initially, with potential for rare metabolic diseases)
- Identify and connect with relevant patient organizations
- Collaborate on initiatives to improve patient access to resources
- Assist with translations (if applicable)

Benefits you'll gain:

- Valuable experience in real healthcare projects and awareness campaigns
- Direct contribution to improving patient lives
- Development of research, communication, and collaboration skills
- Flexible remote work with Grandaliro and potential collaboration with healthcare professionals

Compensation: €5-10/hour (based on experience)

Duration: 3-6 months (with extension possibility)

This is your chance to make a positive impact on patient care!

Share this opportunity with your network and apply today via e-mail at veronika@grandaliro.com. Please send your CV and a short motivation letter.
